

WILLIAM GLOVER.

[To accompany bill H. R. No. 243.]

MARCH 5, 1840.

MR. C. MORRIS, from the Committee on Invalid Pensions, made the following

REPORT:

The Committee on Invalid Pensions, to whom was referred the petition of William Glover, make the following report:

That, in the year 1814 he was a draughted militia-man, in the service of the United States, on the Niagara frontier; that while on picket guard, doing his duty as a soldier, he was wounded in the face and shoulder by the accidental discharge of a musket from the regiment which was engaged in military exercise.

The evidence in this case is the sworn-to statement of the petitioner; of a soldier who served in the same corps; that of one of his neighbors, who swears to his health when he joined the army, and his wounds and disability when he returned home; that of a physician of Cayuga county, New York, who swears to his present total disability: also the certificate of Aaron Pitney, surgeon's mate to the regiment to which petitioner belonged, verifies the facts stated in the petition, as to the manner of receiving the wound, and says he is now an invalid. All those certificates, or affidavits, are properly authenticated.

Blair & Rives, printers.

WILLIAM GLOVER.

[To accompany bill H. R. No. 212.]

MARCH 5, 1840.

Mr. C. Morris, from the Committee on Invalid Pensions, made the following

REPORT:

The Committee on Invalid Pensions, to whom was referred the petition of William Glover, make the following report:

That in the year 1814 he was a draughted militia-man, in the service of the United States, on the Niagara frontier; that while on picket guard, discharging his duty as a soldier, he was wounded in the face and shoulder by the accidental discharge of a musket from the regiment which was engaged in military exercise.

The evidence in this case is the sworn statement of the petitioner; of a soldier who served in the same corps; that of one of his neighbors, who swears to his health when he joined the army, and his wounds and disability when he returned home; that of a physician of Cayuga county, New York, who swears to his present total disability; also the certificate of Aaron Pinney, surgeon's mate to the regiment to which petitioner belonged, verifies the facts stated in the petition, as to the manner of receiving the wound, and says he is now an invalid. All those certificates, or affidavits, are properly authenticated.

Sam'l & River, printers.